Succeeding Together

Aims of the subject: To create schemes of work that stimulate both sides of the brain and allow pupils to explore their senses. Lessons should allow pupils to express themselves in an open, stimulating and nurturing environment. Projects will improve students fine motor skills and dexterity, helping to build confidence as well as a sense of individual identity. Creativity is at the core of everything they do, and we want empower them to express themselves. We aim to develop pupil's critical thinking and their ability to interpret the world around them. They will learn many skills and processes in a wide variety of mediums including painting, clay and drawing, and use these skills to bring their ideas to fruition. They will also learn to present work and create portfolios, by sustaining a creative journey to outcome.
